

8-13-53

CCT-4K-104

R41W

This is a composite aerial photograph showing a rural landscape. A river or stream flows from the top center towards the bottom left. The surrounding area is divided into numerous rectangular agricultural fields. The terrain appears to be flat with some variations in soil color and vegetation. There are some small structures or buildings scattered throughout the fields. The overall tone is sepia or aged black and white.